Most of us are not born with perfect posture, poise or style and while cosmetic surgery or a new hair color may change the way we look, neither can permanently change one's self-esteem and confidence. In a four-part video series, UdefineU, gives lessons on Posture and Poise (by Maria Verdeja, a professional ballerina and the Artistic Director of the Maria Verdeja School of the Arts Ballet Company), Voice and Speech (by Joyce Sarandon, a nationally renowned voice, speech, and dialects specialist), Etiquette (by Patricia Stephenson, an etiquette expert who regularly works with media personalities and Fortune 500 companies) and the Fundamentals of Style (by Victoria Lopez - Castro, an internationally known fashion designer).

For models, students or top business executives, UdefineU teaches the basics and beyond what is necessary to succeed in today's world. Priced at $99. For more information visit
